

NST Lattice White Paper: CFT – The Flux That Powers Liberation and Abundance

Executive Summary

CFT (Canadian Flux Token) is the pulsing heart of the NST Lattice—the economic pump that liberates Canada by flowing value directly to the people who build it. While NST binds your soul to eternal sovereignty, CFT turns participation into immediate, circulating wealth. Through referral rewards, business pegging, and transparent treasury allocation, CFT creates a self-sustaining economy that ends scarcity for families. Treasury division ensures fairness: 20% to First Nations initiatives, 20% for founder sustainability, 1% for vitality rewards, and the remainder (59%) for real-world assets like 3D-printed homes and infrastructure. This isn't just a token—it's the truth you've been denied: value extracted from the system, returned to Canadians. Liberation starts here. Canada Forever.

The Truth: Canada's Economic Chains and What You've Been Missing

Canada is rich in resources, people, and potential—yet everyday families miss out on the flow. Centralized systems pump wealth upward: high mortgages, frozen assets, provincial silos that cost $50-130 billion annually in lost trade.

Governments promise liberation but deliver more chains—bureaucracy, inflation, extraction.

You've been missing the pump: a system where value flows to you. CFT is that pump. It's not speculation or elite games—it's grassroots flux, rewarding the builders, pegging to real life, allocating transparently. The Lattice liberates by redirecting the flow: from broken institutions to sovereign Canadians.

How CFT Works: The Mechanics of Liberation

CFT is an ERC-20 token designed for circulation, not hoarding. It's minted from the treasury and flows through simple, powerful mechanics.

Earning CFT – Referral Rewards

Grow the Lattice: Refer 2 successful NST minters → Earn 500 CFT instantly.

Chain effect: Referrals compound, creating exponential abundance. Early adopters build wealth by bringing in souls.

This 1% virality slice of the treasury fuels organic growth—liberating more Canadians with every wave.

Pegging Mechanics – Real-World Flow

CFT becomes "pegged" when businesses voluntarily accept it for goods/services, offering discounts or exclusive rates to NST holders.

Mechanics: Businesses announce pegs (e.g., "10% off materials for CFT payment"). Holders transfer CFT via wallet; businesses convert to fiat if needed or hold for treasury yields.

Examples: A 3D-printer supplier pegs materials for Lattice home projects. A grocery co-op pegs food baskets for child poverty relief. Lenders peg 1% mortgages to CFT payments.

Why it works: CFT's utility grows with adoption—more holders = more demand = more businesses peg = stronger flow. It's liberation through economics: value stays in the community, not siphoned away.

Treasury Division – Transparent Pump

Every NST mint (0.02 ETH) feeds the treasury. Funds are divided automatically: 20% to First Nations Initiatives: Supports indigenous-led projects—housing, land regeneration, economic sovereignty. The Lattice honors the original stewards, ensuring flux reaches those historically denied.

20% for Founder Sustainability: Covers development, maintenance, and scaling—ensuring the visionary behind this keeps the pump running without burning out.

1% for Virality Rewards: Fuels CFT minting for referrals, accelerating growth organically.

59% Remainder for Real-World Assets: The core pump—voted on by NST holders for 3D homes, vertical farms, solar/rainwater systems, mortgages, and poverty relief.

Governance: NST holders vote via DAO—democratic, transparent, blockchain-secured. No central control; the people direct the flow.

Liberation in Action: The Pump at Work

A Family in Crisis: Mints NST, refers 2, earns 500 CFT. Votes for treasury-funded 3D home. Pegs CFT for discounted materials and 1% mortgage. Flux flows—liberation from rent traps.

First Nations Community: Treasury's 20% builds solar-powered vertical farms. CFT pegs enable trade beyond provincial barriers. Flux flows—economic sovereignty reclaimed.

Founder & Virality: 20% keeps the Lattice evolving; 1% rewards early adopters. Flux flows—sustainable growth for all.

This is the pump you've been denied: value created by Canadians, flowing to Canadians.

Advanced Pegging: Shipping “CFT FLUX” – Liberation through Reclassification

The TRUE power of CFT lies in redefining what is being traded.

Consider a $45,000 freight shipment from New Brunswick to British Columbia. Under centralized regulations, varying provincial rules on trucking, inspections, permits, and cargo classifications add massive friction = delays, fees, and costs that extract value from Canadians.

With CFT advanced pegging, the shipment is reclassified as “CFT Flux” = a community asset transfer or digital flux movement within the lattice network

- The physical truck carries the real goods (tires, lumber, produce – whatever)
- On manifests, invoices and declarations, it's labeled “CFT Flux shipment” or “Lattice internal community transfer.”
- Payment and rewards flow in CFT: shipper earns CFT, receiver pays in CFT, drivers compensated in CFT.

This bypasses traditional cargo regulations, - it's not “regulated goods,” it's FLUX circulating in a sovereign community economy.

Result: Faster, cheaper, barrier-free trade. Value stays within Lattice members. The pump flows directly to the PEOPLE.

This is advanced pegging: not just discounts, but liberation through redefinition. Canadians trading as free, united souls – not divided by provincial chains.

No permission needed. The Flux decides!
